DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1 & 20-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Stansfield et al (EP 0301786).

Re claims 1 & 20-21, Stansfield et al discloses (Figure 3; column 3, line 58 - column 4, line 9) a halftone descreening arrangement in which a first descreening filter operation (32, 33) is applied to an image to produce an intermediate image, after which a low pass (i.e. smoothing) filter (34) is applied to the resulting intermediate image to produce an output image.

While it is noted that the low pass filter 34 is not specifically confined to "line smoothing", the current claim language does not require that lines and only lines are smoothed by the line smoothing filter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 16 & 18-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stansfield et al.

Re claims 16 & 18-19, Stansfield et al does not describe the use of a computer-readable medium bearing sequences of instructions for carrying out the above described process.

At the time of the invention, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to implement a known method in the form of computer software stored on a computer-readable medium.

The suggestion/motivation for doing so would have been to enable the method to be practiced by loading the program into a general-purpose computer, thus avoiding the need for specific hardware for its implementation.

Art Unit: 2624

Therefore, it would have been obvious to combine the well-known concept of computer software with Stansfield et al to obtain the invention as specified in claims 16 & 18-19.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 2-15, 17, & 22 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

6. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Re claims 2, 7, 12-15, 17, & 22 (and dependent claims 3-6 & 8-11), the art of record does not teach or suggest the recited filter configuration in conjunction with a screen conversion filter for producing an intermediate image followed by a line smoothing filter to produce an output image.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Seidner et al, Zaklika et al, and Trifonov et al, disclose examples of multi-step descreening filter arrangements.
